The Troubling Case of the NAIC and Questions Concerning Transparency and Accountability

"To improve transparency and accountability, ACI recommends the following reforms:

- Require the NAIC to file an annual Form 990 with the IRS like other nonprofits
- Subject the NAIC to the same transparency requirements as government agencies
- A comprehensive independent third-party audit"

Holding the NAIC Accountable

"Meetings where critical decisions are made often occur behind closed doors, limiting public insight into deliberations that impact millions. This secrecy fosters skepticism about whose interests are prioritized and whether policies undergo rigorous debate before implementation."

John McComish: The US must reject Europe's liberal insurance regulations

America is ceding its insurance regulation to international nongovernmental organizations that have crippled Europe's insurance sector. If U.S. regulators continue down this path, they risk implementing liberal, European Union-style policies that stifle growth and weaken the industry's ability to provide affordable insurance coverage to consumers."

The shadow nonprofit's push for ESG

"Since 1871, NAIC's stated purpose has been to professionally support the roughly 11,000 state insurance regulators in maintaining stable insurance markets. Yet, in recent years, NAIC has moved beyond its mission to stealthily foist environmental, social, governance (ESG) requirements onto state insurance entities."

Administration Needs 'America First' Insurance Regulations

The NAIC is putting American insurance last when it should be putting American insurance first. Without legislative reform, the NAIC's excessive and narrow-minded focus on private securities will continue to harm the NAIC's budget."
